PROGRAM DESCRIPTION
Criminal Justice is the application of law, social and natural sciences to the social phenomenon of crime and delinquency. The discipline addresses definitions, causation, prevention, discovery procedures, legal process, treatment and rehabilitation, quantification, and research, in both criminal and civil aspects.

The comprehensive program at CSUS covers every aspect of the profession. Courses are offered which span the entire system of justice administration in both public and private sectors. Two undergraduate curricular plans are available. These plans lead to the BS in Criminal Justice; Law Enforcement Management and Investigation; and Corrections.

The Division of Criminal Justice aims to:
1. Identify and increase understanding of major social issues related to crime, criminals, prevention and control, and victims.
2. Develop the critical thinking skills of those enrolled in the program so that graduates are competent in identifying and assessing the various alternative solutions to the problems associated with the control and prevention of crime and delinquency.
3. Enable students to understand the research which is available to policymakers concerned with issues of crime, delinquency, and victimology.

Many graduates find positions with various federal, state, and local criminal justice agencies. Both the state and federal governments have recently announced plans for increased emphasis in combating crime and juvenile delinquency. The employment opportunities for Criminal Justice majors should, therefore, continue to be excellent.

FEATURES
The University’s location in the state capital provides direct access to many local, federal, and state agencies through internship and fieldwork opportunities.

The Master of Science is available in Criminal Justice with a wide range of study areas.

GRADUATE PROGRAM

The Master of Science program in Criminal Justice is designed to provide broad knowledge and understanding of the field of criminal justice, law enforcement, legal processes, and rehabilitation of offenders. It will also provide an extensive academic foundation for a growing variety of professional opportunities and facilitate professional development in preparation for positions of increasing responsibility. Curriculum objectives are based on the philosophy that the function of the professional criminal justice practitioner and educator is to aid the orderly development of society, to contribute significantly to the improvement of the quality of services, and to advance the criminal justice system. Students who anticipate pursuing graduate studies should prepare themselves for work on this level by selecting undergraduate courses which provide competence in the following areas: statistical analysis, behavioral science methodology, independent library research, and the writing of research papers.

The University’s location in the state capital provides direct access to many local, federal, and state agencies through internship and fieldwork opportunities. All graduate students should consult the Criminal Justice Graduate Coordinator when planning their program of courses for each upcoming semester.

All work toward the degree must be completed within a seven year period. The general university requirements for graduate degrees are explained in the “Graduate Studies” section of the CSUS Catalog.

Admission as a classified graduate student in Criminal Justice requires:

- a baccalaureate degree and
- a minimum 2.8 grade point average in the last 60 units attempted and a 3.0 GPA in the major field and
- a letter outlining in some detail the applicant’s interests, goals, and expectations in pursuing the MS in Criminal Justice and
- three letters of recommendation from individuals who can evaluate the applicant’s potential for graduate study

In addition, applicants are expected to have an undergraduate major in Criminal Justice or Forensic Science, or its equivalent. Whatever the applicant’s undergraduate major, however, it is essential that each student have adequate preparation for graduate study. For this reason, some applicants (regardless of their undergraduate program) may be asked to remove deficiencies in their education by taking courses from the undergraduate curriculum before being admitted as a classified graduate student. In such cases, conditionally classified graduate status may be granted subject to completion of these courses with grade “B” or better. The number of units required to remove deficiencies will total no more than 15 (except in Forensic Science where more units may be required), and these must be taken in addition to the 30 units required for the MS. Any deficiencies will be noted on a written response to the admission application.

Applications are accepted as long as space for new students is available. However, students are strongly urged to apply by April 1 for the following Fall or October 1 for the following Spring in order to allow time for admission before the Computer Access Student Phone Entry Registration (CASPER) All prospective graduate students, including CSUS graduates, must file the following with the Graduate Center:

- an application for admission and a supplemental application for graduate admission (Forms A and B in the CSU application booklet)
- two sets of official transcripts from all colleges and universities attended, other than CSUS

At the same time, each prospective graduate student must forward to the Graduate Coordinator in the Division of Criminal Justice the following:

- a letter outlining in some detail the applicant’s interests, goals, and expectations in pursuing the MS in Criminal Justice
- the three letters of recommendation from individuals who can evaluate the applicant’s potential for graduate study

Approximately six weeks after receipt of all items listed above, a decision regarding admission will be mailed to the applicant.
